Jason,

The account debited is a Bank of Ireland account (in Ireland), as this was the account where we had EUR available.

I will ask them whether they have any information on this.

Kind regards,
Ela

Ela

Thanks for the information. I note the Jan 9 value date, however, still nothing as of today in the Thorsdale account.

Has the money been debited from the Swiss account? That would at least indicate if the problem is on the Swiss end or the American end. Would be unusual at the jp Morgan chase end.
